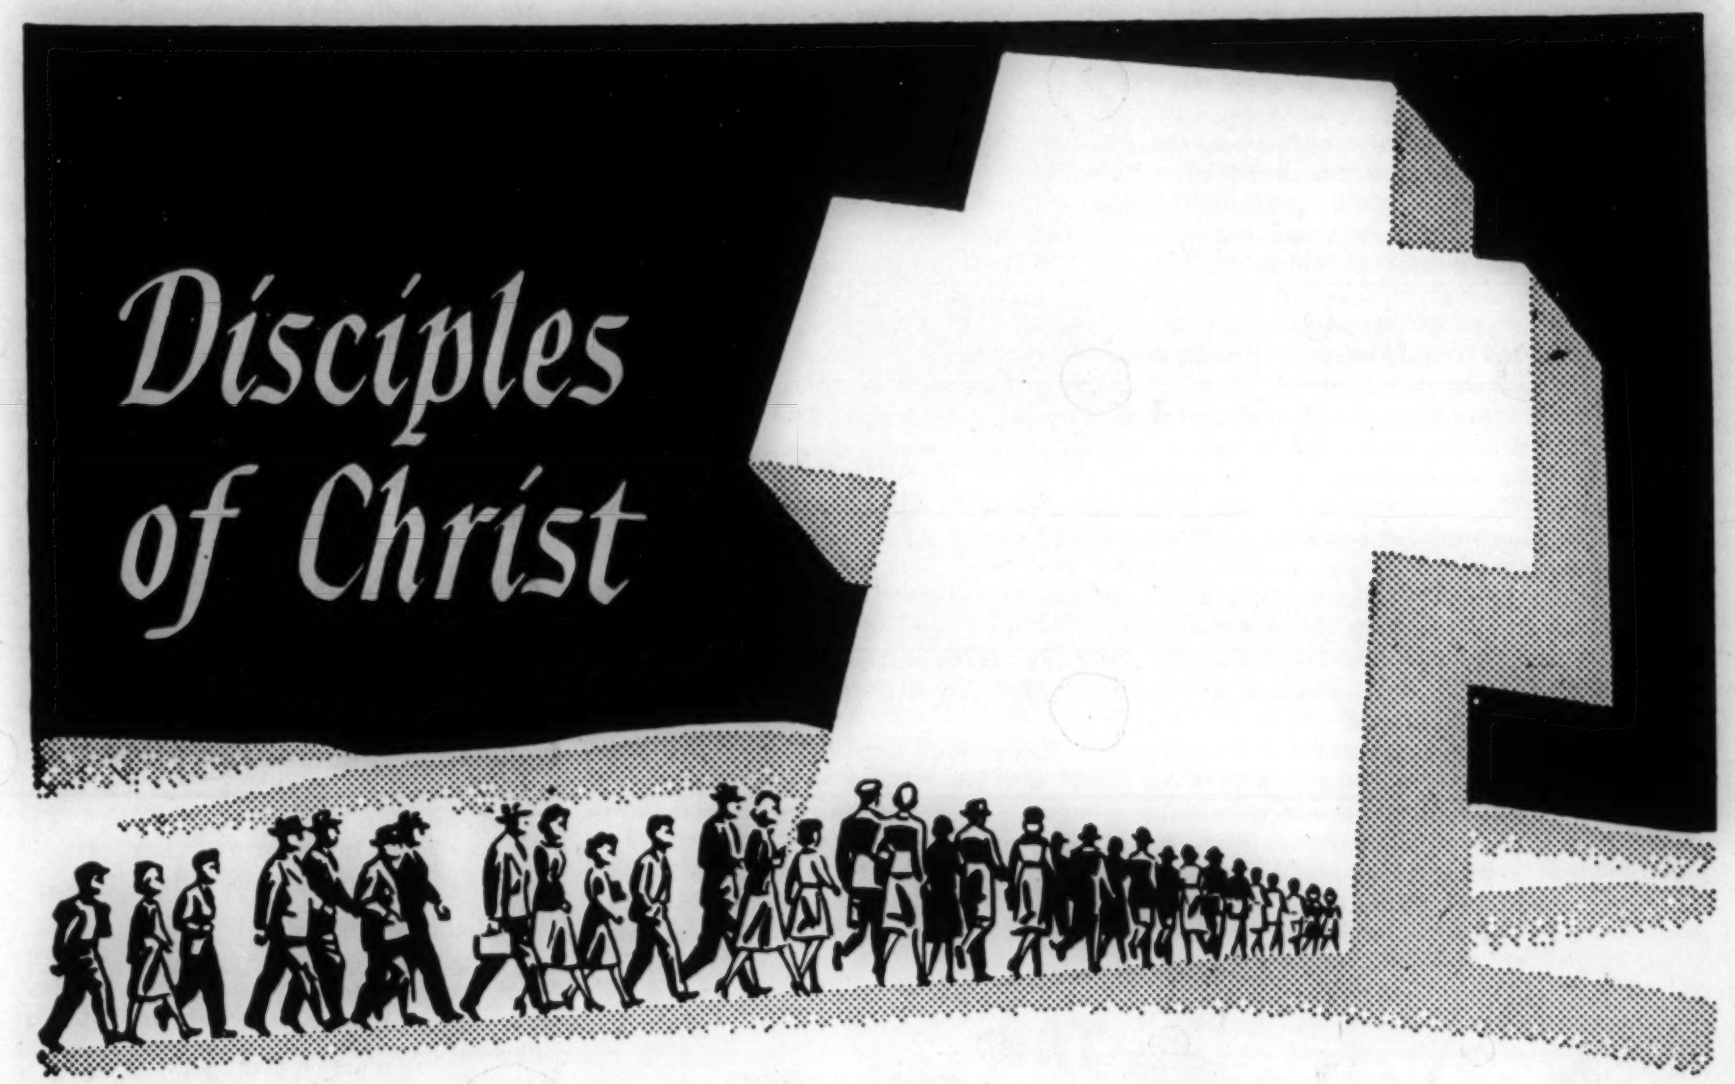
VOL XII NO. 1 PORTLAND, OREGON JANUARY, 1954



THIS IS OUR

YEAR OF EVANGELISM

1953-54

WHAT DOES 1954 HOLD FOR OREGON?

Come January 1 each year the American mind seems to automatically begin to reflect on the 12 months just passed as it attempts to look into the future of the year ahead. Your editor is no different; he succumbs to the annual pastime. Let's take a peek through the back door of 1953 and see what our churches did in Oregon worth remembering. 1953 saw. . . .

- ★ the most successful evangelistic effort ever completed in Oregon with the Pentecost Plus program
- ★ Oregon in the role of host to the greatest International Convention of Disciples of Christ ever held in Portland last July
- ★ an expanded state program launched (it also saw this program begin to lag!)
- ★ several new congregations begun through cooperative efforts
- ★ the enlargement of our state office staff. Newell Morgan became Director of Stewardship; Walter Lantz was employed as Director of Christian Education, the latter a fulfillment of the dreams and plans of many, many years; and Charles H. Addleman continued his devoted service as State Secretary.

Now, let us look to the future. Your editor hopes that 1954 continues as a year of advancement. These hopes are seasoned with a sincere desire that the errors of the past are not included in the year ahead. So, gather around the crystal ball, folks. These are a few of the hopes and aspirations for 1954 . . . .

- ★ that the Churches in Oregon enter full heartedly into the last half of our Brotherhood Long Range program of the Year of Evangelism and beginning July, support the Year of Stewardship
- ★ that the International Convention to be held in October in Miami, Florida will have in attendance many of the ministers of our Oregon Churches (sent by the Churches, of course) and that as many lay people as possible be there. The Brotherhood needs Oregon and surely, Oregon can well afford to know more of the Brotherhood
- ★ that each of our churches look beyond its own doors and come to realize the sensibility of working together for Christ and His Church in this State
- ★ that each minister will personally pledge to lead his congregation toward this more effective means of accomplishing great things
- ★ that a personal and unwritten code of Christian ethics be established in the minds and hearts of all who are a' part of our Oregon Christian Missionary Convention to generate greater physical evidence to accompany the vocal sup-

ADDING UP ACTIVITIES OF ADDLEMAN

This report covers the period from November 20 through December 18.

November 20 and 21 was spent in the Southern Oregon Christian Youth Fellowship Meet at Grants Pass. I remained over and preached at the morning service. The next two days were spent in the office, with some conferences and also met with committee chairmen of the Hillsboro Church.

On November 25 I met with the chairman of the Evangelism Commission, Harry Atkins, at Dufur for a conference. Thanksgiving was spent at home with the family. Friday and part of Saturday were spent in the office. I met with the DSF Committee planning the program for the Northwest DSF Conference in April. I preached at Pendleton on the 29th. The next two days were spent in the office with some conferences as usual.

On the night of December 1, I entrained for the Annual meeting of State Secretaries in Kansas City, Missouri. This was an execellent meeting and well attended. On December 6 I went on to St. Louis for a meeting of the Council of Agencies; on Monday I sat in on the meeting of Unified Promotion. On the 8th and 9th I attended the meeting of the Home and State Missions Planning Council.

I arrived back in Portland on the 13th and visited my home church in Portland. Monday through Wednesday was spent in the office. I attended a meeting of the Christian Student Foundation Committee in Corvallis one night. The 17th was spent in Eugene in a committee meeting. The 18th was spent in the office. Thus we close the record of some of the activities of the month.

AVAILABLE

Walter A. Barnes, 212½ N. E. Cleveland Avenue, Gresham, is available for supply ministry almost any time in churches within driving distance for week ends. He has served several churches in Oregon in the past. For reference call Charles Addleman at the state office at 512 Panama Building, Portland.

NORTHWEST CHRISTIAN COLLEGE

By Ross J. Griffeth

"Where Do Ministers Come From?" is the title of the thirty minute 16mm movie recently produced at Northwest Christian College under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin L. Whisler. It is available for showing in your church.

Northwest Christian College was chosen as the scene for filming this picture because it has more ministerial students of college standing enrolled than any institution reporting to the brotherhood. Also, the Whislers enjoyed the setting because this is their alma mater and they have two children enrolled now in Northwest Christian College although neither took a part in the filming of the picture.

Ministers do not "just happen." Young people must be recruited and trained adequately if there is to be a satisfactory supply of ministers to care for the congregations now established. And with the opening of new works, it is imperative that more youth be recruited and trained. By showing this picture in your home church you may enlist the interest of your best youth to answer the call.

A free will offering is to be taken at the conclusion of each showing and this offering sent to Northwest Christian College to defray the cost of production and handling. If you wish to arrange a date for showing, just write to Northwest Christian College, Eugene, Oregon, and indicate your wishes and the approximate time when you wish to show the picture.

Billy Weeda of Santa Ana, California, has the leading role in the picture and the story used closely parallels the story of his own life. Billy is an N.C.C. Senior this year.

In addition to meeting the regular operating budget, much attention is being focused upon the need for a new library building at Northwest Christian College. The architect has plans well advanced. Now the need is for funds to make possible the transforming plans into a building.

The architect's estimate of the cost for the library building is just slightly over $202,000.00. Approximately $25,000.00 of this amount has come in. The First Christian Church of Yakima, Wn., Orval Peterson, minister, recently accepted a goal of $8,000.00 toward this project. The Christian Church at Kalispell, Montana, has set for itself a goal in excess of $1,000.00 for the current year to help in the building. Others are joining in underwriting the project.

This year we are crowded with students who are personally answering the question, "Where Do Ministers Come From?" by saying, "Here I am." But we must provide them with the facilities for preparation to serve as ministers. By working together and sharing generously in the project, we can soon have room enough for the students to make full use of their time while in college.

Mrs. James D. Wyker is to be the Louisa F. Kellems Fellowship speaker on the N.C.C. campus February 16-18. Mrs. Wyker is President of the Department of United Church Women, National Council of Churches of Christ in America. She received attention because of her outstanding service as the wife of a rural minister in Ohio. We are exceedingly fortunate to have her help in the guidance of our young people, especially those young women who will grace the parsonages of our area. A public meeting will be held in Eugene First Christian Church on the evening of February 17 for the benefit of all who wish to attend.

CHURCHMEN'S WASHINGTON SEMINAR

The annual interdenominational Churchmen's Washington Seminar will be held in the nation's capitol, February 23-26. Sponsored by the National Council of Churches, the seminar offers ministers and lay people an opportunity to observe the Federal Government in operation and to study legislative processes which concern the churches.

Disciples of Christ are allowed a quota of 45 delegates who will be named by the department of social welfare of The United Christian Missionary Society. Twenty of these delegates will be selected by chairmen of state commissions on social education and action. Most of the others will be chosen on a "first apply- first accepted basis.

Persons interested in attending the Churchmen's Washington Seminar should write to Barton Hunter, 222 So. Downey Ave., Indianapolis 7, Indiana.

THE WEEK OF COMPASSION
February 21-28

The time is at hand again to share in the Week of Compassion offering. The special week will be February 21-28. It is as true now as it was in the days of Jesus earthly ministry, we still have the poor and needy with us. He had compassion on them and we, as His body, have compassion on them as well. The Christian heart cannot be content to let this opportunity pass by without doing something in a special way to relieve their needs. In the life of our brothrhood we have been taking advantage of this period for some years now to share with others. We call your attention to the following statement of purpose:

"To alert Disciples of Christ to a keen appreciation of their responsibility to those in distress in other lands and to enlist their support to the greatest possible extent in order that the material benefits of these projects may be widespread, alleviating homelessless, illness and despair without regard to race, color or creed. To develop the Christian values inherent in the work of relief, reconstruction and rehabilitation, not only in the Christian response to acute human need, but also in the inevitable strengthening of Christian witness around the world through this sharing of possessions in the spirit of Christ. To bring about a greater understanding and realization of the brotherhood of all the children of our Heavenly Father and to generate among the peoples of the nations a mutual trust and an international friendship of people upon which alone can be built a solid structure of world unity and world peace." It is hoped that each church has ordered materials and by this time has begun telling its people about the manner in which its offering last year was administered. Last year the churches of Oregon gave $9,817.77 in the Week of Compassion offering. This year we are suggesting that at least 60 congregations share in this offering and strive to reach a total gift of $12,000.00. If each one will share in the same spirit as the lad who shared his few loaves and fish with Jesus, your gift will be blessed by the same Christ. It seems a little goes so far in helping answer the needs of our fellowmen. Let every church do something about it.

Without that big muscle we know as the heart.

1953 YEAR BOOK

The 1953 Year Book is now off the Press. It will be easily read by the laymen of the church, and will be geared in organization to make its contents very attractive and interesting.

Our ministers should welcome this new YEAR BOOK and use it as an instrument of education among the various groups in our churches. A section is included which contains 100 questions and answers pertaining to important facts and summaries of the reports from our churches and agencies.

On informed church is a progressive church! The 1953 YEAR BOOK is a story of the Christian Churches and their Agencies during the past year. Take advantage of this real opportunity to inform the leading lay people of your church. Make this book a MUST!

The International Convention office, which compiles the facts and produces the book, is urging that lay leaders, as well as ministers, make wider use of the book. Your State Office spent many hours on the statistics from our churches in Oregon.

Official Board chairmen, presidents of Christian Women's Fellowships, superintendents of church schools, church librarians, church secretaries, and religious education directors are among the key people who will secure helpful information by examining the Year Book.

The cost is $2.00 paper-bound and $3.00 cloth-bound. Send your orders to the State Office or to the International Convention Office, 620 K of P Bldg., Indianapolis, Ind.

Two cavalry rookies were each given a horse, and they wondered how to tell them apart. Joe cut the mane off his horse, but in a short time it grew out again. Then Bill trimmed the tail of his horse, but it grew back.

Finally Joe got an idea. "Why don't we measure them?" he asked. "Maybe one horse is larger than the other.

So they measured them and sure enough, the black horse was three inches taller than the white one.

NINETY AND NINE MEN'S BROTHERHOOD

—By Ed Dewees

W. W. White, evangelist, was the very appropriate messenger to deliver the $1000 Millenium Minute Man check to the Prineville Church of Christ on Sunday, December 6, as he began a revival meeting there. Men of the church worked until midnight on December 5 to put the unfinished building into useable condition for the services. Many of the Ninety and Nine Men will remember that a personal challenge by Brother White at the 1944 Turner Convention inspired the first offerings under the plan dubbed "Millenium Minute Men" by Wallace E. Jones. Sutherlin was the newly organized church which sorely needed a meeting place at that time and $636.01 was given through the MMM. Since the 1951 convention at Lebanon $1000 checks have been presented to Lowell, Gates, (Eugene)-Bethel, Garden Road (Salem), and now to Prineville. Prior to the latest presentation the average offering for each of the 17 churches assisted was $780.00.

Ralph Hardesty, retiring state vice-president for the Southern Area, called a meeting for the officers and leaders of the three Ninety and Nine districts in the Area. The meeting was held at the Myrtle Creek Christian Church on December 5 with good representative attendance. Dorsey Dent, host pastor, led in a devotional presentation and Roy Bullock, Sutherlin minister, led in some acappella singing. Ralph Hapner of North Bend and Harry E. Chapin, minister of the new Westside Christian Church in Roseburg, were chosen for the new state vice-president and pastor-advisor, respectively. Formal election of these nominees was scheduled for the state executive board meeting of the Ninety and Nine Men's Brotherhood at Salem on December 27. A presentation of the present state program was made by your reporter and discussion of the work followed with statements by Elmer Newton, past state president and now director on the executive board, Newell Morgan, state stewardship evangelist and others.

What Does 1954 Hold for Oregon? What Do You Think?

OREGON CHRISTIAN WOMEN'S FELLOWSHIP

—By Edna L. Burke

Mrs. William Hart who has served as the secretary for district 8 (Central Oregon) has resigned after two years of faithful work. Mrs. Hart is the sister of Robbin Cobble, one of the missionaries now in Belgian Congo, Africa. Mr. and Mrs. Hart have been called to the Fairview church in Wichita, Kansas. We wish them Godspeed and success in their new field.

The supplementary monthly worship services that have been sent to all organizations who sent in the subscription price of $1.00 per year, are for the present being sent out by Mrs. V. D. McCauley, Forest Grove, secretary of District 3. Mrs. McCauley has had considerable experience in this field so we are fortunate that she has consented to step in and help out in an emergency. Because of illness, Mrs. Ralph Cook of Medford was forced to close her work in September. Mrs. Cook did an outstanding type of work providing worship services that were both informational and inspirational. Thank you, Mrs. Cook!

We want to welcome to our state C.W.F. organizations, two brand new groups, West Roseburg organized by Mrs. Rice and Myrtle Creek by Mrs. Burke. These two fine growing enthusiastic organizations give promise of some good work. They are already holding regular meetings, studying the current missionary material and taking part in local and state projects. Mrs. Ida Allison who has had experience in Council work in the east has been elected president of the West Roseburg Fellowship; Mrs. Frances Leighton, capable sister of Oscar Cooper, field secretary for the Beaverton Home, is president of Myrtle Creek CWF. Under the leadership of Mrs. Blanche Marr, the women of the First Roseburg church have reorganized themselves into a Christian Women's Fellowship, thus correlating all branches of the women's work of the church under one group of officers. In this way much over-lapping of effort and conflict in dates can be avoided. We wish for all of these fellowships a bright future under the supreme leadership of our Lord Jesus Christ.

In the December issue of The Oregon Christian a partial resume of the 1952-53 report of the United Christian Missionary Society, compiled by President Dale Fiers, was given, — that which comes under the heading of foreign work. I shall continue the report giving Home Missions information especially in the area of Institutional Missions. We maintain six Home Missions Institutions; All Peoples Christian Church and Community Center, Los Angeles, (Dan Genung the Director was one of the guest missionary speakers at our Turner convention last September. His sweet Christian spirit endeared him to all present). There are 249 church members, 90 kindergarten children, 1,860 reached through Community Center and related groups. The playgrounds have been enlarged and property renovated. Hazel Green Academy, school for mountain boys and girls, Hazel Green, Kentucky; 100 students; 6,860 books circulated by the Community Library; 102 rural Sunday school sessions conducted by students and faculty. Jarvis Christian College, Hawkins, Texas, college for Negroes. Dr. Cleo W. Blackburn, an outstanding Negro educator made an-interim president; enrollment increased. Southern Christian Institute, college for Negroes, Edwards, Mississippi; academic work suspended May 31, 1953 until present work is revamped and new work developed. Yakima Indian Christian Mission, home for Indian boys and girls, White Swan, Washington; over 1,000 clinic treatments given to Indians last year. (Dr. Corpron, former missionary to China, gives his service free one half day each week); 3 vacation Bible schools — average attendance of 60; 12,000 pounds of salmon contributed by Indian parents in payment for children's care; site for Indian church chosen. Mexican Christian Institute, San Antonio, Texas; 40 years of work celebrated in February, 1953. Served 4,000 through clinics, classes, clubs, kindergarten and playground. Facilities crowded.

The president of a large bank always wore his hat to cover up his bald head. One day in his office, he met the janitor, an old timer with the bank. "Say Bill," the president said jokingly, "you've been with us 30 years. Why haven't you ever taken out an account with us?"

"Because, boss," the janitor replies, "you always look like you're going some place else."

WANTER LANTZ BUSY

Since last issue our new State Director of Christian Education has been busy getting started in his important work with our churches.

During the past month he participated in three important planning meetings as follows: Oregon Council of Churches, Menucha; City-wide Leadership School, Portland; and Mid-Columbia Youth Retreat, The Dalles.

He also conducted a Workers' Conference at St. John's Church, Portland; participated in the Convention on Wheels program at Canby; and attended a State Education Committee meeting at Salem.

In addition he conducted a Conference with Church School Leaders and Workers at Dallas; attended a conference with Leaders of Agencies in Eugene; was special Women's Day speaker at Dallas; and attended a meeting in Corvallis of the Oregon Christian Student Foundation.

Seventeen days during the past month were spent in planning and office work.

OLD HYMN BOOKS NEEDED

The group meeting at Cedar Hills is in need of some used song books. At present they have about a dozen of Favorite Hymns and about a like number of Junior-Youth Hymnal. If any congregation can supplement either of the above mentioned books please mail them to the state office. If a church has three or four dozen usable song books of a different variety, mail them also. Some Sunday School Class or youth group can make this a project and share with this new and growing work.

ALBANY EAST SIDE CHURCH STILL NEEDS HELP

The building of the new Albany East Side Church is under way. The laminated arches are in place and a part of the other frame work has been completed. A small amount of building material is on hand. But the congregation is badly in need of additional funds to continue the building project.

More families are needed to enroll in the Fellowship of the Concerned. Please fill in the blank below and add your shoulder to the wheel in this important phase of Christian service. Send the form and your money to the State office, 512 Panama Building, Portland 6. Only through such unselfish giving of churches and individuals can the State office render assistance to new churches, as well as to the other important portions of State Missions.

THE FELLOWSHIP OF THE CONCERNED

"We would like to be one of the families (or individuals) who will give $2.00 or more toward the construction of a church building for each newly formed congregation in the state. This will be above our regular giving. The Lord can count on us.

AMITY HOLDS RECEPTION

The Amity Christian Church gave a reception honoring their new ministers, Mr. and Mrs. James Mathew Alley, on the evening of November 20. A large group attended and enjoyed the fine program of solos, trios, and a male quartet consisting of Yamhill County ministers and Newport. The ministers were: Ray C. Smith of Newport, Oregon; Frank Cunningham of Newberg; James Alley of Amity; and Elery Parrish of McMinnville. The program was arranged by Mrs. James Riha Jr., Social Chairman.

Mr. and Mrs. Alley came to Amity November 1 and the church attendance has steadily grown with an average Sunday evening attendance of over 100. The Alleys gave their Jubilee Bell Ringers concert the evening of November 29 to a packed house with standing room only. All available space was filled. An offering of over $100.-00 was taken that evening for a projector to be used in the youth work here.

THE CANE RIDGE PRESERVATION PROJECT

The trustees of the historic Cane Ridge Meeting House are launching a movement for the preservation of this church, located in Bourbon County near Paris, Kentucky, which was the birthplace of the Christian Church. It is proposed that there shall be erected a superstructure of the native Cane Ridge limestone which will enable this Meeting House to tell its story to future generations. Here Barton Warren Stone engaged in his early ministry, and here in 1804 he and his colleagues wrote the Last Will and Testament of the Springfield Presbytery, which is the earliest document in our brotherhood life that pleaded for the union of the followers of Christ, to wear the name simply of Christians, with their faith and practice determined by the Bible.

Dr. Thomas D. Clark, head of the Department of History in the University of Kentucky, not a member of our churches, rightly says "Here was founded the first truly American Church. It would be almost criminal for interested people to let this historical shrine disintegrate."

The Cane Ridge trustees are seeking the cooperation of all interested people in this Cane Ridge Preservation Project. Dr. Robert M. Hopkins has acepted their invitation to give direction to the undertaking. His office is in the Christian Church at Paris, Kentucky, and to him at that address may be sent all inquiries, suggestions and gifts for this worthy purpose.

The architect's design for the "Cane Ridge Shrine" is shown in the accompanying illustration. The primary financial goal is $100,000.

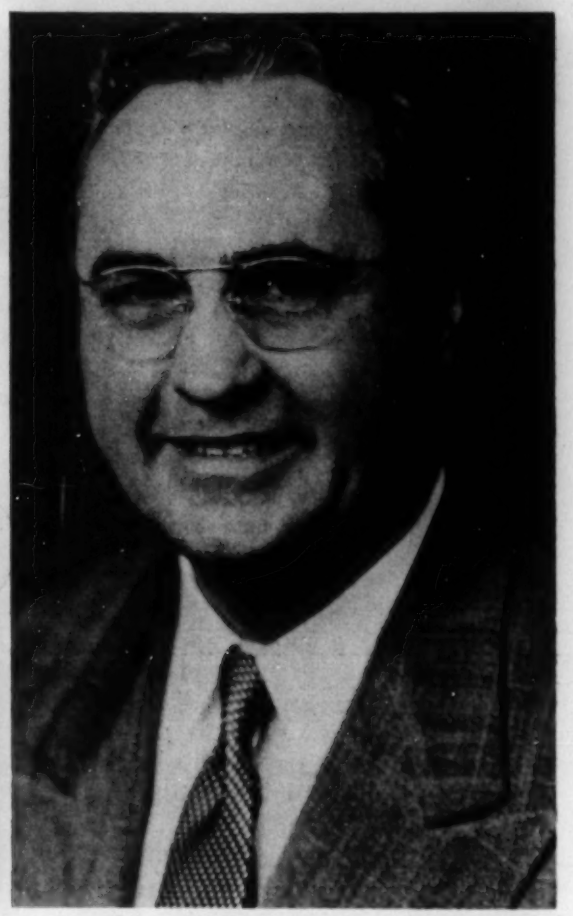
DR. JOHN E. ROSS was commissioned by the Board of Trustees of The United Christian Missionary Society in April, 1948. After attending Language School at Yale University, New Haven, Connecticut, and having further study in Belgium, they went to Belgian Congo. They have been serving in the station at Lotumbe.

In 1929 Dr. Ross entered Butler University in Indianapolis, Indiana, to complete his undergraduate work begun in 1927 at California Christian College (now Chapman College) in Los Angeles, California. After receiving his degree from Butler, he entered the Medical School of Indiana University and received his M.D. degree from that institution. He served his internship in the Southern Baptist Hospital in New Orleans, Louisiana.

Dr. and Mrs. Ross and son, Ernest, arrived in the United States in May, 1953 for their first furlough. Many Oregonians will remember seeing the Ross family at the International Convention in Portland last summer.

MRS. MAE YOHO WARD is executive secretary of the department of Latin America missions in The United Christian Missionary Society. This international board of Christian missions and education for Disciples of Christ has offices in Indianapolis, Indiana. The Latin American missions include Puerto Rico, Jamaica, Mexico, Argentina and Paraguay. Mission work is carried on in education, medicine and social work as well as in strictly evangelistic services. The wide variety of services is determined by the needs of people in such cities as Buenos Aires, and rural areas where a small number of families are gathered in one location.

Mrs. Ward has a rich background of ability, education and experience for her work. A graduate of Bethany College, Bethany, West Virginia, and of Yale Graduate School, she taught school for one year and served as religious education field worker in West Virginia and Ohio for Christian Churches before becoming a missionary to Buenos Aires, Argentina.



THEODORE R. LEEN was, until recently, the Associate Secretary of the Department of Church Development and Evangelism with primary responsibility for Evangelism in The United Christian Missionary Society, International Board of Missions and Christian Education of the Disciples of Christ. In this position he was primarily responsible for the development and promotion of evangelistic plans, programs, projects, techniques and the necessary supporting materials and literature for use in Christian Churches throughout the United States and Canada. Through the United Christian Missionary Society, his services have been made available to area and state leaders for conferences, institutes, and their respective bodies with reference to evangelism and membership enlistment. Mr. Leen is now state secretary for Northern California.

EUGENE FIRST CHURCH TO HOST EMPHASIS ASSEMBLY

Eugene is one of 48 cities to be visited this winter by a team of Brotherhood leaders for the purpose of lifting up the year's emphasis on evangelism and world missions. The 1953-1954 Emphasis Assembly in Oreion will be held all day, February 8 in the First Christian Church at Eugene, where Carroll C. Roberts is the pastor.

Churches within a radius of 100 miles or more around Eugene are being invited to take part in the assembly, which will open at 10:00 A.M. and close at 9:00 P.M.

Team members who will speak in the Eugene assembly are Dr. John Ross, missionary to the Belgian Congo, Mrs. Mae Yoho Ward, executive secretary of the department of Latin American Missions of the United Christian Missionary Society, Dr. Theodore R. Leen, who recently resigned from the national staff to become state secretary in Northern California, and a guest minister.

Sponsored by the United Society, the 1953-1954 Emphasis Assemblies will center about the theme, "Christian Witness at Home and Abroad." Inspirational addresses will feature the final pre-Easter effort in Our Year of Evangelism and World Missions. An important item on the program will be the period for questions from the floor on some of the critical issues which the cooperative missionary enterprise now faces in these revolutionary times.

WILL HISTORY REPEAT?

By Newell Morgan,
State Director of Stewardship

In this new year, 1954, we, as members of the Body of Christ in Oregon, will be looking forward to many opportunities. These will be God given, but what will we do with them? May our faith and courage be as great as our opportunity and be also equal to our message and plea. To look ahead is good, but for the best view ahead one should first look back.

From the pages of Dr. Swander's book, MAKING DISCIPLES IN OREGON, I would like to borrow these phrases as a backward look. Page 44 of his book tells of churches started in 1854. "Bethel, Polk county, near the present town of McCoy Glen O. Burnett organized the church and named it after the old Bethel church in Missouri. For a number of years . . . it was ministered to by the veteran I. N. Mulkey . . . It rendered three score years of glorious service to the cause of Christianity and its name will go down in our history as a church that "though dead, yet it speaketh."

"Bid Muddy, near the dividing line between Linn and Lane counties, September, 1854, with 11 members.

"South Fork, location now unknown. It is mentioned as a church in reports to the CHRISTIAN-EVANGELIST for that year.

"Wallace Butte, in Lane County, was organized in the month of June with 14 members. The length of its life is not known."

The Christians of 1854 were evangelistic with a forward look—think how much more the need is today even after 100 years. Another look into this same book, page 54, tells how the Christians in 1877 were realizing the need for greater expansion of the Kingdom here in Oregon so they launched what they might have called their "expanded program." Dr. Swander records these words; "During the first years of the Cooperation (a cooperation for "the vigorous prosecution of evangelical and missionary work") thirty churches contributed $449.25 for the support of the work. Eight or ten evangelists were assisted during the year, and as a result we read that "the churches were generally quickened and strengthened; stimulated largely by their own active benevolence and the cooperative labors of the earnest and devoted evangelists" . . "The first year had been successful beyond their hopes. During the second year a reaction set in, and at the third meeting of the Cooperation in 1879 . . . there was consternation. Practically nothing had been contributed." This in many ways reads like 1953 and will it be the same for 1954 as it was in 1879? Let us work and pray that it will not be as before.

The churches of the State stand at the doorway of a new era, but will we make the most of the opportunity? The pages of history which will be read by others will tell what we did and what we failed to do. Let's make 1954 a real victory for Christ.

Greatly helped by money and manpower of these and other churches of the Portland area, it was possible to hold the dedication service of the church which was a remodeled residence Sunday, October 4. After holding services in the church for about a month, trustees and elders were selected at a congregational meeting and the trustees were instructed to proceed immediately with work to build an addition to the church to add space for two class rooms and also for more auditorium space. Besides that, the new addition to the church was erected and the two classrooms were finished on the inside. Tom Stockton of N.C.C. is minister. Walter A. Barnes, reporter.
